Of Traffic Policing
Spillette Raps 'Era'

Newmarket—In reply to a letter to the editor from Lorne C. Paynter which appeared in the Era and Express last week, Mayor Jos. Vale read a letter he had written to him at council meeting Monday night.

Mr. Paynter's letter had criticized the Newmarket police in regard to Main St. parking problems and the mayor's answer outlines some of the problems of policing Newmarket.

Deputy - Reeve J. L. Spillette had this comment to make about the public and the Era and Express: "Unfortunately everybody runs to the newspaper to make these complaints and unfortunately our newspaper here just gobbles up that sort of stuff."

When the mayor handed the Era and Express reporter a copy of his reply to Mr. Paynter, Mr. Spillette added, "I'll bet that letter gets reshaped plenty by the time it gets into the paper. Most of them do."

The reporter was unable to catch the rest of Mr. Spillette's remarks.

English Home Town Paper
Recalls 'Tommy' Ponting's Soccer

Newmarket—A letter was received from England last week from Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Ponting, Millard Ave., formerly of the south-end restaurant on Main St., by his son, Ken, enclosing several newspaper clippings which told of an earlier part of Mr. Ponting's life unknown to most of us. Mr. and Mrs. Ponting left by airplane from Malton last July for an extended visit to relatives in their native town, Brimscombe, England.

One clipping read: "Former Soccer Star Returns Home—'Tommy' Ponting's visit from Canada." The clipping continues: "One of the most interesting sports stars at Brimscombe's early matches this season at the Meadows will probably be a former star of the club, and a member of the winning Lily Whites team which won the northern senior league cup in the season 1922-23. 'Tommy' Ponting, a dashing centre forward of the first two decades of the century, an excellent marksman, and a most popular 'Lily White' of his day, gained his cap for Gloucestershire."

"After spending nearly twenty years in Canada, Mr. Ponting and his wife have returned to their native town of Brimscombe for an extended visit. 'Tommy' Ponting will be remembered by every old footballer in the

Newmarket Men
Work On 'Flying Wing'

Newmarket has been closely involved in the development of Canada's only "Flying Wing," a wood and fibre glider which has been experimented with for almost four years.

In September when the 2,300-mile flight was made from Nanaimo, Alberta, to Annapolis, Ont., with the wing being towed by an R.C.A.F. Dakota, it was piloted by Flight-Lieut. Frank Phripp, formerly of Newmarket. Flight-Lieut. Phripp is with the winter experimental unit.

Accompanying the wing on its maiden voyage was a second Newmarket man, H. R. Bennitz, who has been concerned with the entire tests on the wing. Mr. Bennitz is a National Research Council technician.

No Power In New Homes

Newmarket—Denying rumors that new houses being built will not be supplied with electric power, chairman of the hydro commission, Fred S. Thompson, said yesterday that there has been nothing issued in regulations to that effect.

Subscribers' List Increased
In New 'Phone Directory

Newmarket—Large increases in the number of telephones in service are reflected in the new buff-covered telephone directory recently mailed to subscribers here. The alphabetical section of the book, which has increased by eight pages to a total of 100, contains nearly 4,800 new and revised listings for the many communities it covers.

S. R. Van Dusen, Bell Telephone manager here, points out the necessity of looking up numbers in the new directory before calling, in view of the large number of changes. He also urges subscribers to bring their desk pads and lists of frequently called numbers up to date by consulting the new book, to avoid calling numbers that have been changed. The now outdated green-covered directory should be discarded.

As usual, the directory lists numbers for many communities, including Brampton, Georgetown, Orangeville, Milton, and other centres, and was mailed simultaneously to subscribers at those points.

About 1,700 directories were mailed to subscribers in Newmarket.

Citizens Urged To Buy
Wreaths, Poppies

Newmarket—Urging citizens to support the annual Poppy Day Appeal on Saturday, Nov. 6, Mayor Joseph Vale said that "I particularly desire that all loyal and patriotic citizens shall purchase Veteran's wreaths long before Remembrance Day and display them in their homes or elsewhere and then deposit them at the cenotaph on Nov. 11."

Mayor Vale pointed out that the proceeds of the sale of wreaths and poppies would be used in welfare work by the Newmarket Branch of the Legion. The purchase of wreaths and poppies not only pays tribute to those who served, but is a material aid to disabled veterans and dependents.

Aurora Sets Up
Four-Team Crib League

A four-team town cribbage league has been organized in Aurora with teams entered from Aurora Legion, Town, Collis Leather, and Aurora Fire Brigade. Howard Timbers
Takes Plowing Honors

Seventeen-year-old Howard Timbers, member of Aurora midget baseball club and midget hockey club, distinguished himself in the Ontario Plowing matches held at Lindsay last week. Howard took a first, third, and fifth and is awaiting an award in another class. Chief opposition to Howard came from his cousins from the Stouffville-Markham district. The son of a champion plowman, Howard bids fair to go far in competition and the name of Timbers, held with respect wherever plowmen are known, looks not a worthy successor.

STILL PRODUCING

Holland Landing—Mrs. E. Sweet said last Saturday that several vines in her raspberry patch are still producing an abundance of ripe berries. "The bushes are still green. Other years I have seen berries on some of the bushes when snow was on the ground," she said.

Les Beazer To Run Rink
Under Recreation Commission

Newmarket—The operation of the Memorial Arena was turned over to the Newmarket Recreation Commission by council at a meeting on Monday night, giving the commission a free hand to operate it in a manner on which it would decide.

At a Recreation Commission meeting the following night, Les Beazer, Aurora, was named to take on the management of the arena for the season.

J. B. Walker, spokesman for the commission at the council meeting, asked council to turn over the arena with no financial strings attached. "We are not 'after' the arena," he said, "but we feel we have a duty toward the town in it." He said there could be no guarantee for a set financial return for the town. "The commission feels, however, that it can make this into a successful project," he said.

Fled Newmarket Cell,
Given Six Months

Newmarket—Pleading guilty to a charge of escaping custody, William Martin, 5572 Yonge St., Toronto, described his method of escape in Newmarket court Friday. "I grabbed hold of a tab on the lock and leaned against the cell door. The door opened and I walked out." According to Detective-Sergeant W. E. Martin, North York police, Martin was awaiting transfer to the Don Jail on October 1. "I went to his cell about 9.45 p.m. to make the transfer and found the cell door open about four inches, and the accused missing. The other prisoner confined with Martin was still there."

Speaking on his own behalf, Martin pleaded that the court take into consideration his method of escape and his state of mind at the time. "My family is in desperate straits," he said. "We have two children and are expecting another shortly. My wife and one child require medical attention immediately. All this had placed me under a severe mental strain, and I hardly knew what I was doing."

In passing sentence, Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake said, "I don't like piling more sentences on you on top of what you have already received. However this is not the first time you have escaped. You have three years ahead of you and I am trying to find a happy medium." He sentenced Martin to six months for escaping from the Newmarket jail.

Consumption Greater,
Factories May Be Cut

Aurora—Aurora factories may face additional hydro cuts necessitating shorter working hours unless Aurora's present usage of hydro power can be reduced immediately, disclosed Hydro Superintendent Charles Copland. "The most recent Ontario-wide restrictions have been of no use whatsoever," he said, "as Aurora's power consumption is from 8 to 7 percent higher each day than last week's figure of 18,500 kilowatt hours."

"We would like the factories to work nights," said Mr. Copland, "but they refuse to do so. Besides the girls in the plants refusing to work evenings, the factories themselves do not wish to pay the extra overtime wages demanded." According to Mr. Copland, the hydro will meet with the factories very shortly to discuss the situation.

Proclaim Nov. 11
Public Holiday Here

Newmarket—November 11 will be a public holiday in this municipality. A motion was passed in council Monday night to proclaim the holiday after a delegation from the local branch of the Canadian Legion put the request to council.

The Legion spokesmen said they had plans arranged for a memorial parade if the town would declare a holiday. One spokesman said, "We have a holiday on Queen Victoria's birthday and there are certainly many of us who do not remember what she looked like. Why should we not have a day set aside to pay tribute to those who died for our country?"

The mayor said that he did not know whether it was the council's place to proclaim a holiday and take off a day's pay but the rest of the council were in favor of it.

Holland Landing—Fire destroyed one-half of a 600-foot long broiler house and with it, 7,000 chicks at the K-G Poultry ranch a mile north-west of Holland Landing shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. There were between 28,000 and 30,000 chicks at the ranch.

Estimated loss was between $12,000 and $14,000, according to William Garfat, Aurora, co-owner with Frank King, Toronto. A second-story apartment and a storeroom beneath it were also gutted. The fire was discovered a few minutes after 6 a.m., 20 minutes after a caretaker had checked the oil stoves.

There are two buildings at the ranch, each 600 feet long with a two-story structure in the centre. The caretakers live in the second story of each. The 300-foot wing of the one was completely destroyed except for the cement block walls which are still standing. The caretaker's children were still asleep when the fire broke out.

The building was heated with oil stoves 20 feet apart, the whole length of the building.

Mr. Garfat complimented the Newmarket fire brigade for its prompt action. "They certainly did an excellent job," he said. "With the assistance of the brigade, the other 300-foot wing was saved."

See Little Effect Here
From Steel Reduction

Newmarket—The recent 18 percent cut in steel imports from the United States is not expected to have much effect on production in Newmarket factories. According to the Canadian Hoffman Machinery company, the firm's production is influenced more by other import restrictions. Hoffman steel is purchased from warehouses which handle Canadian steel as much as possible. The Office Specialty will not be affected to any great extent. According to the Specialty spokesmen they have not been able to get U.S. steel at all lately and production has been slightly affected.

'Disgrace' Vet's Comment
On Four Frenchmen

Newmarket—Commenting on the manner in which the case of four Frenchmen, convicted in France in absence of having collaborated with the Nazis and who entered this country on illegal passports, has been handed Douglas May, president of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, said:

"It's a disgrace to the veterans of World War II. In the first place they came to the country illegally. They were also proven guilty of collaboration with the Nazis in their own country. 'If I or any other man in uniform had committed a crime against a German while overseas we would have been punished and given dishonorable discharge. There is no justification in sheltering those men here. Spain was condemned for not turning over collaborators in that country after the war and now we are turning around and doing the same thing,' he said.

Mr. May said he was speaking for himself but added that four of five members of the executive had talked to him about the question and were "hot under the collar" about it.

Hunt Taylor, president of the Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion, declined to make any comment and said he was not yet prepared to speak on behalf of the Legion.

An Aurora Legion spokesman said that branch had not formally discussed the matter.

Jr. Farmers Home Plowing Match On

The York County Junior Farmers have issued a most attractive prize list for their 29th annual Home Plowing Competition which has been so popular in the county. This contest has been largely responsible for keeping up the keen interest in this agricultural sport of match plowing in a county which year after year boasts of so many prize-winners in the famous International Plowing Match.

With the opportunity of breaking the ice at home with no curious spectators, the young people enjoy getting started on their own land with their own outfits. The prizes this year include a four-piece silver tea service, a wrist watch, two $25 bus trips, a silver tray, complete set of tractor wrenches, a silver cream and sugar set as well as many cash prizes and trophies.

Judging will be done next week to be completed before the banquet for the contestants and their friends to be held at

Settles Veterans On Farms

Newmarket—First prospective settler at the newly-opened regional Veterans' Land Act office here, Roy M. Taylor, Udora, with his attractive wife, appeared before the qualifying board while busy workmen completed modernization of the new Millard St. quarters.

In the gleaming new board room, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor spoke of their hopes and plans for the future while relatives in the town cared for their small, tow-headed son, Michael. A veteran of the recent war who fought with the First Canadian Armored Carrier Regiment, Taylor outlined his own personal design for living happily.

He painted a vivid word picture of a 255-acre farm available near his home. Here he hopes to raise shorthorn cattle for the beef market and to specialize in grain growing. The fast-flowing Black River, which runs through the property, would provide an unfailing water source he felt. Its shady banks were also valuable for sheltering cattle during the hot, summer months.

Scottie Taylor, V.L.A. staff member, together with Morgan Baker, former M.P., and Ross McMillan, both retired successful farmers, comprised the qualifying board and listened intently to the earnest veteran's plans. From time to time they interrupted courteously to question Taylor and his wife about their agricultural experience, for details on the farm they proposed to buy and to ask the questions necessary for guidance in veterans' land settlement.

In the outer offices, E. R. Donaldson, regional supervisor, who served in a similar capacity in the Campbellford offices recently closed, began his first day's duties in the new V.L.A. branch.

With a field staff of 14 and an equal number of clerks and stenographers, he plans to provide the best possible service to the 1,400 established veterans in his area as well as the hundreds planning to settle under V.L.A. in the future.

Mr. Donaldson explained that the new offices will serve former fighting men settled or planning V.L.A. establishments in the area bounded by Owen Sound, Thornhill, Port Hope and North Bay. Already 800 full-time farmers are operating in this 20,000-square mile territory as well as about 600 smallholders.

Prior to the opening of the Newmarket offices, the veterans appeared before a qualifying board in Toronto. For those living in the outposts of the district, the long trip to Toronto with their families frequently proved inconvenient. "Apart from that," added Mr. Donaldson, "with our new central location, we feel that our field men will be able to serve the veterans far more satisfactorily. This setup will not only speed up future appraisals but will result in more frequent visits to our settlers."

Members of the staff expressed complete satisfaction with their new 'workshop.' Located on the ground floor of the former Club 14, the newly-designed and decorated offices occupy 2,700 square feet. Flanking the receptionist's counter near the entrance are a spacious waiting room, comfortably furnished, and the qualifying board room where applicants are questioned.

The clerical staff carry out their duties in the central office and the supervisor's quarters and a counselling room complete the arrangements at the rear. The new headquarters is just a block from the main street in the down-town section.

Mr. Donaldson referred to the friendliness and co-operation extended himself and his staff by Mayor Joseph Vale and the citizens of Newmarket. Although most of the staff transferred from the Toronto office, the majority have found accommodation. Several have bought homes already and the remainder are in comfortable rooms or planning to purchase houses in the near future. Mr. Vale was instrumental in obtaining a fine home for one field man.

A veteran of the First Great War, Mr. Donaldson fought with the P.C.P.L.I. and rose in the field from private to commissioned rank. He was established as a soldier-settler after discharge and for two years worked with the Soldier Settlement Board himself. He returned to his farm during the depression years and successfully operated it until joining the present administration in the latter days of the recent war.

He served as regional V.L.A. supervisor with the Campbellford office until its amalgamation with headquarters at Kingston. Until his new appointment, he joined the Toronto Regional staff.

Besides the full-time farms and individual small holdings located in his region, he is responsible for the settlement of approximately 62 smallholders located on seven sub-divisions. "The majority of our establishments will be full-time farms," he forecast. "Indications now point to a heavy increase in veterans wishing to settle on farms under the V.L.A. in this region."

Plowing Matches Unrivalled Show

Lawrence the foreman had his back turned on Friday morning so we were able to slip into the bright October day and off to the plowing matches without anyone being the wiser. We felt just the same as when, in by-gone days, we dodged the algebra teacher and spent the afternoon at the movies. It added a certain zest to our enjoyment of the event.

The International Plowing Matches must be seen to be believed in all their variety and color. They were held this year a couple of miles this side of Lindsay where several farms had been jumped together to give enough land to accommodate the record 920 entries. Spread over the combined acreage, the crowd didn't seem so large, but it is estimated that over 30,000 attended the matches on the final day.

The plowing match is strictly a farmers' show. It is arranged by farmers, competed in by farmers and every aspect of the show is directed towards catching the interest of farmers. The huge implement exhibits dwarf anything else in Ontario, including the farm exhibits of the Canadian National Exhibition. Indeed, we heard it often said that the exhibition, as an agriculture show-place, was losing ground to the plowing match, mainly, we understand, because of the exclusive interest the show has for the farmer compared to the rivalry of industrial and manufacturing exhibits at the Toronto fair.

Another innovation at the match and one very much to the credit of those responsible, is the barring of the usual midway-type concessions which have changed the character of the traditional fall fair from that of a rural gathering to something resembling honky-tonk row. The only variation from the rule "strictly of farm interest" were the eating places and they were mostly provided by various rural groups such as the Eden Mills church W.A. which has been catering at this and similar events for some time, turning the proceeds into church work.

We had some conversation with John Mark, Cameron, chairman of the local committee and a director on the provincial organization, who told us that this was the largest match he had seen in all his 20 years of association with plowmen's organizations. He said that the philosophy behind these competitions was that if a man could learn to plow a straight furrow away from home, he was going to be a better farmer because of it. Admittedly, match plowing was scarcely practical for the back 40 but the tips on setting plows and other wrinkles of plowing can be learned in the contests. "It all helps to educate plowmen" said Mr. Mark. He also added that next year's match would probably be held in Brant county, but just where, he didn't know.

Lindsay is some 60 miles from Newmarket but there was no lack of familiar faces. We saw Sheldon Walker who was making his second visit—"couldn't see enough the first time," he told us. The whole staff of the agriculture office from Newmarket was there and we bumped into Jim Moore—literally—rounding the corner of a tent. Jim was assistant agriculture representative here some years ago and is remembered for his boys' and girls' club work. He is on the public relations end of the same sort of work in Ottawa. At dinner, we struck up a conversation with an English couple, in Canada for less than a month, and found them to be from Aurora, their headquarters while they look over the lay of the land with farming their objective. C. A. "Tiny" Cathers was an obvious figure among the exhibits and Bill Geer and George Byers were others we saw.

Ernest Sedore had an exhibition of his loaders and seemed quite happy at the interest they were attracting. Mr. Sedore has his factory at Mount Albert where he turns out loaders of his own design. He told us he sold 13 of them at the last plowing match at Kingston.

We chuckled at the remark of one farmer as he watched a complicated piece of farm machinery grinding away. "It would be pretty nice to have one on the farm—save a lot of work. I doubt it would make me a better farmer though."

Editorials

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

New Library Building

The library board is preparing a brief for submission to council on the provision of new quarters for the public library. The council had earlier struck a committee to consider the possibilities of a joint fire-hall and police quarters to replace the present antiquated building at Millard Ave. and Main St. It was suggested then that new library quarters might also be included. It is apparent that the board is making the most of that suggestion.

New library quarters have been a long-felt need in Newmarket. The present situation of the library doesn't encourage the use that can and should be made of its facilities. On the second floor of a Main St. building, the stairs are a handicap to older persons. Its entrance is not convenient, nor its interior attractive. Much more space could be used than is now provided.

The present library allows little encouragement to contemplation and reading. There are no facilities for lectures and exhibitions such as every library should have. It is a place where books are housed, but little more. There is no facility for safe-keeping nor study of historical documents which are continually being uncovered in this area, and lacking this, they are either destroyed or lost. Bound volumes of The Era and Express Herald of many years ago, often in demand for checking dates, must be kept in Toronto for safe-keeping. They could be made available to a properly equipped library.

Here is a condition for which there is evidence that initial steps towards its correction are being taken. Public insistence that the project be carried through to its completion, and not shelved as so many other worthwhile projects have been, will encourage its accomplishment.

Check The Voters' List

The municipal voters' list, the one which will be used in the municipal election in December, has been completed. Copies of the list will hang for two more weeks, in accordance with the law, in the clerk's office. Voters are asked to check this list to see if their names have been correctly noted. Mistakes and omissions should be referred to the town clerk immediately for correction. Failure to observe this simple condition of voting privileges can mean loss of franchise.

Despite this, many voters fail to check the list. They are not sufficiently interested to want to vote, so they see no need to take this simple precaution. When there comes an issue upon which they wish to vote, they find that their carelessness has cost them that right. They are indignant. They call the officials names. But nothing, least of all their indignation, can change the fact that their vote was lost through their own indifference.

The provincial election laws are obsolete, it is true. Newmarket's municipal list was used in the last provincial and although the list was then six months old, no opportunity was provided to correct it. The fact remains, however, that many of those who lost their provincial franchise might have kept it had they checked the municipal list when it was first posted.

We are too accustomed to our rights to pay them the respect we should. We have forgotten that a man was hung a few miles away only a century ago over an issue which had its source in voting rights. The franchise and other rights we enjoy in Canada carry with them responsibilities. It's time they were more carefully acknowledged.

Promoting National Unity

What justification can there be for permitting the stay of the four Frenchmen who broke the law to enter Canada, who have been convicted in absentia by French courts of collaboration with the Nazis? Others who entered Canada by illegal means have been deported. Why not these four, convicted as wartime enemies of Canada?

Acting Prime Minister Howe has said that as far as he and the cabinet are concerned, the case is closed. The men will stay by virtue of unpublished orders-in-council setting aside the deportation orders, passed after pressure from certain elements of French Canada.

Is this the manner in which the government encourages national unity, by condoning illegal entry, by accepting men convicted of collaboration with the Nazis as potential Canadian citizens at the instance of special interests?

Tells History Of Broderich Farm

This week, in continuation of the policy of laying aside this part of the editorial page for historical articles, we print a paper presented recently to the Mount Albert Institute by Mrs. Harold Broderich, giving the history of the Broderich farm, lot 10, con. 8, East Gwillimbury, which was the first to be settled in the district. The text of Mrs. Broderich's paper follows:

The Broderich farm was settled by the Birchards in 1814 or 1815. Samuel and Rufus Birchard came to Upper Canada from Vermont and made their way to Hope (now Sharon). They cut a road by hand through the bush from there to their new home and carried their chattels on their back. They took this farm from the crown. Samuel Birchard married Ruth Pearson from near Uxbridge. Soon other settlers followed, Shuttleworths, Rears, Mainprizes and Harrisons. Mount Albert was then named Birchardtown.

The first years were hard. The bush had to be cleared, they tried to raise sheep but the wolves and bears were so bad they couldn't raise more than one or two lambs in a season. Mrs. Birchard used to take a large tin horn and blow it to scare the wolves away. They had to take their wheat to Holland Landing to get it ground into flour, and there was just a trail through the bush.

The Birchards, like other Quakers, were interested in education and one of the first acts was to give the deed of land for a school site. The first school building was a small log one on the corner where the little park is now. Mr. Birchard sent back to the States for his sister to come and teach. One of the Birchard's daughters married a Bear and lived on the next farm where Sam Harper lives now.

In the late 30's or early 40's, the Fletchers bought the farm. Mr. Alex. Fletcher lived here for some years, also his son, William Fletcher. The first house on the farm was a small log house about the centre of the back fields. The next house was a plank one built into a bank. It was just west of the creek next to Case's fence. It was in this house the Fletchers lived. Mrs. A. Dike was born there in 1866. The land then ran to the east and came out on the ninth. During the years 1850-1860 the taxes on the farm were $5 a year. Money was reckoned in pounds, shillings and pence. Jno Leek was the first storekeeper. There was little money in circulation, produce was taken to the store and traded for merchandise. In 1858 two pigs were sold for 11s 8d. In 1852, 200 boards of inch lumber sold for 5s. Eggs were about six cents a dozen. Mount Albert was then known as Newlands. The first post office was called Newlands East.

A mill was built at the foot of the hill near the present bridge by Allan Graham. There was a dam to supply water power and a mill pond was on the farm. Later Graham and Halg ran the mill and afterwards Geo. Halg operated a furniture factory and cider mill there. A brickyard was once in operation on the back field next to the side road. It was run by McFarlane and Trinkwon. The bricks in the present house and some of the village houses were made on the farm.

In 1890, Alex. Fletcher, distant relative of the former Alex. Fletcher, built the house that is now in use. In 1892 he died and Mr. and Mrs. Jno Broderich moved from Ulica and rented the farm for 15 years then their son, Geo. Broderich, took over and owned it until 1942. Since then his son, Harold, has been the owner.

Schomberg Fair Hits Jack Pot

Success rewarded the officers and directors of the Schomberg Agricultural Society for the efforts they put forth to promote their annual exhibition according to the files of 25 years ago. Last week's event was the greatest in the history of the society, the attendance was the largest on record and the entry list exceeded that of any previous year. There were many fine exhibits in horses, cattle, sheep and swine. The speeding events comprised two races, the open and 2.25 class; there were three entries in each event. Boston citizens' band furnished the music for the school children's parade and throughout the afternoon.

Following the concert on Friday evening there was a dance in the town hall which was well attended. The annual meeting of the Newmarket curling club was held on Wednesday evening in the board of trade rooms. G. A. Binns was elected president and J. R. Y. Broughton, secretary. It was decided to fix up the waiting room at the old rink more comfortably and place a glass front in the partition so that visitors can watch the progress of the games without standing in the cold.

At 2.15 last Friday morning a fire was discovered by the night patrol in a barn owned by Thos. Blizard across the street from the new arena. Between four and five tons of hay, implements and furniture were destroyed and the damage will exceed $1,000. Great credit is given the firemen for saving the arena, which cost $80,000, from any loss. It was necessary to keep a line of hose playing on the hay all morning to prevent a further outbreak of fire.

Rev. E. C. Hall, who has been the pastor of the Christian church for the past four years, and family leave next week for their new home in Erie, Pennsylvania. Mr. Hall has accepted the position of field secretary and evangelist for a number of Christian churches in that district.

Good market last Saturday but was soon over. Usual quantity of butter and eggs. Fruit and vegetables were plentiful and a great demand for dressed poultry. Ruling prices were: eggs 50 to 55 cents a doz.; butter 40 to 47 cents a lb.; dressed chickens 28 to 30 cents a lb.; dressed ducks 25 to 28 cents a lb. Apples sold at $6 a barrel, grapes were 40 cents, pumpkins 25 cents, cabbage sold at 15 to 20 cents and cauliflower at 15 to 25 cents.

The apple crop in the vicinity of Keswick is almost a total failure. Arthur Morton is bringing them in from Markham by the truck load and is finding a ready sale for them.

From The Era and Express files, October 21, 1890

Work was commenced on Wednesday tearing down the stables at the south side of the Royal Hotel yard. The yard room is to be doubled for the accommodation of farmers driving into town. A new and large barn will be built at the rear of the premises facing on Lot St. It will be fitted up with all modern conveniences and when the improvements are completed the Royal will have one of the best yards north of Toronto.

Miss Sarah Belfry and her mother left for the city yesterday.

Jacob Burkholder, Stouffville, has arranged the planting of about 100 maple trees on either side of Church St. from S. Stouffville's down to Main St. This will make one of the prettiest streets in the village of Stouffville when they grow up.

Game warden Tinley has information from Muskoka and the north hunting grounds that game is more plentiful than usual this year but the season has been so mild that the hunting will not be good. The open season for deer is almost here but the leaves are still upon the trees and will make hunting almost impossible.

Ginger Looks Into Witch Situation

I was trundling home from pine orchard a few nights ago after visiting a sick cousin when I came upon a witch languishing on a rail fence seeing a witch with one's own eyes is no ordinary occurrence so I decided to interview her.

This witch whose name is hatchet faced harriet is not one of the average broom-riding hags who haunt the local countryside you might say she is the John Lewis of witchery all I gotta do is hang around and collect union dues she said.

tell me your story I said

well in real life I was a vaudeville queen back in the nineties when I died they figured I would be pretty good material for a witch's job so they set me up in the wheeling constellations for elementary training I sold after two hours flying time on this broom I headed my class when I got my wings

I was never satisfied with routine duty the pay was poor so I decided to take a crack at Hollywood I did bit parts for some time and then I got my big break with Judy Garland in the wizard of oz that was several years ago I made enough out of a while a secluded life in Beverly hills

Whitchurch Councillor Tops In Spuds

Councillor L. J. Harper of Whitchurch twp. will be put down on the records this year as a champion grower of potatoes. Mr. Harper has a wonderful crop on his farm at Pine Orchard, running 500 bushels to the acre. Recently he submitted a liberal sample to the Stouffville Tribune, of seven potatoes weighing 11 pounds. Six of them snugly fitted into a six-quart basket and when cooked were white and fluffy. Despite their abnormal size, the potatoes were not hollow and were an excellent sample of the Katahdin variety.

A. W. Baker, professor of entomology and zoology, Ontario Agricultural College, has replied regarding the identification of the insect, and a section of the nest found in F. Kilkenny's garage. Bradford, which was reported in this column last week. The insects are one of the more common species of yellow jackets or hornets. The workers build large nests of paper mache material. They chew off worn wood fibre from the weathered surfaces and spread the paste to make the nest. The varied color comes from the use of wood fibre from different surfaces. Many of these nests are very large and striking in appearance.

The first wedding in 77 years was held in the Fifth Line United church in September. The bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Colwell, were presented with a white Bible following the ceremony, being the first couple to be married in the historic church since its erection. The bride, the former Mary Lillian Albright, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Albright, Uxbridge township.

Markham township veterans are well satisfied with the response to their first turkey shoot, held recently at Unionville. Twenty turkeys and 24 roosters were disposed of. The birds were well distributed among the good number competing. Among those winning a couple were Frank Roberts, Jimmie Maynard and R. Harper. There were two ranges, one for the prize-winners. Another shoot is to be held before Christmas.

To The Editor

Letters to the editor are always appreciated. The "letters" column is the reader's forum.

Editor's note: The following letter is in reply to that of Lorne Paynter, printed in last week's issue, criticizing traffic conditions in Newmarket.

Dear Mr. Paynter: I was very much interested in your letter to the editor which was published in last week's issue of The Newmarket Era and Express and I am taking the liberty of replying to the same.

With regard to the traffic conditions at the corner of Main and Timothy Sts., I might say that an officer is stationed there during noon and 6 o'clock rush hour. Circumstances will, however, prevent this: for example on the occasion you refer to the officers were detained in the magistrate's court until nearly 6.30 p.m. With four officers it is impossible to so allocate their duties that there will always be an officer at a particular point every day.

Weaving Taught At Scout Hall

Newmarket—The Scout Hall since October 4 has been the scene of much concentrated activity with a basic course in weaving as the cause.

Miss Mary Andrews, the instructor, is one of the fine weavers sent throughout the province by the department of education to teach weaving in any community that wants it. Miss Andrews studied in Quebec with a group of Norwegian weavers and at the School of Fine Arts, Danff.

The course which lasts three weeks and occupies at least eight hours daily, is a complete one. Theory is taught and each weaver uses the three different types of looms provided by the department in order to make easier the future purchase of their own loom.

During the course each weaver completes a book containing 44 different samples of materials such as the weaving of a skirt herringbone and overshot and tabby base. A major project such as the weaving of a shirt length of material completes the course.

Displayed on the wall on Tuesday when we had the opportunity of visiting the class were upholstery, Swedish face towels, dress lengths and a full length coat made up from material woven by Miss Andrews. And these were only a few of the articles.

Fourteen ladies made up the class: Mrs. Edwin Ruth, King, Mrs. Gibson Madge, Miss Greta Goodearle, Mrs. A. Maughan and Mrs. E. Garrick, Aurora, and Mrs. E. A. Mitchell, Mrs. McNally, Mrs. S. W. Otton, Mrs. N. L. Mathews, Mrs. S. Beare, Mrs. L. Bovair, Mrs. M. B. Seld on and the Misses Robertson, Newmarket.

When asked of their reactions to the course the ladies launched forth in a strange terminology from which we gathered that people who weave speak a different language but one which goes back through the centuries. For over all these years the same methods are being used. However, of one thing we were certain—the satisfaction of the class with the department which supplies all the wool or cotton for their weaving as well as the warping mill, looms and other necessary equipment. They couldn't seem to say enough to express their gratitude to Miss Andrews for her capable instruction.

From "teacher" we learned that the class is ahead of schedule and is one of her most enthusiastic groups. One thing which impressed us most on our short visit was the wonderful feeling of good fellowship and high spirits which existed in the group. We came away with the desire to see more weaving in Newmarket for surely this is one of the most satisfying hobbies available to homemakers.

RAVENSHOE

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart White and daughter, Dorothy, Keswick, attended the Shaw-Cain wedding at Zephyr on Saturday.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

police officers in the police station at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 9, I find that there were four not five officers when you went there; Constable Hill who had just come in to report for duty; Constable Mulholland who had been on duty on the Main St. since 6 o'clock and was reporting to the office in the course of his duty; Constable Leeder who had come in to the office to take telephone calls, etc., even though he was not to report for duty till 10 p.m.; Constable Lawrence, the York county police officer, who was also there in the course of his duty. This means that while there were three Newmarket officers there one was there in his spare time to volunteer his services and the other two were there in the course of their duty.

As a matter of fact the unfortunate situation you found yourself in illustrates some of the problems of policing a town such as Newmarket. We now have four officers who work a minimum of nine hours per day but in order to achieve the greatest police coverage with more than one man on duty at the most important times their hours of duty are very irregular. I might say that all the officers, without exception average more than nine hours per day and considering the very irregular hours they are asked to work, their loyalty is something the town should be grateful for.

With respect to checking up on speeding I am assured by Mr. Burbridge, the chief of police, that while two officers attend on this duty it is always done in off duty hours as a service they volunteer to the town.

I am sure that when your natural irritation is gone you will realize the impossibility of always having a police officer on duty on the Main St. at all times when there is only a force of four men to take care of 24 hours of the day.

Keswick Institute Guests At Elmgrove

The Elmgrove Women's Institute met for its October meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Tomlinson, Baldwin. A large number of members were present. Keswick Institute members were guests. Mrs. Murray Munro presided and the roll-call, "where and by whom was I married", met with good response. Mrs. Wm. Harris and Mrs. Noble Munro were chosen as delegates to attend the Institute convention in Toronto in November. We were glad to welcome two new members, Mrs. Weldon, Sutton, and Mrs. Rose, Brown Hill. Keswick friends put on the program which was much enjoyed by all present. A paper on Citizenship was read by Mrs. Serrick. A reading on Peace was given by Miss Gilroy. Mrs. Serrick played a lovely piano solo and Mrs. Frank Marritt gave a synopsis of a book she had recently read entitled The Owl Pen.

Mrs. George Yeats has returned after visiting friends in Toronto. A few flakes of snow on Tuesday morning and colder weather is a reminder that winter is coming soon.

The old Charlie Van Norman home, which has been a landmark for many years on the Van Norman Point, is being torn down to make way for new buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Harper and Mr. and Mrs. O. Huntley attended the funeral in Newmarket Monday of Mr. Frank Draper, Coniston. Mr. Draper was formerly from Bolhaven and spent many years with his family in Keswick. He has been making his home with his son, Luther, in Coniston.

Pine Orchard Old Boy, Girl Honored By Friends

Clarksburg — Mr. and Mrs. Ford Lehman, formerly of Newmarket and now living here where Mr. Lehman is secretary-manager of the Beaver Valley Co-Operative, were honored by friends of the Healthcare Section where Mr. Lehman has been assisting in religious services each Sunday by the presentation of an address and a motor rug and blanket. The address was written by C. H. Landy, who is well known in Newmarket. Mr. and Mrs. Lehman (Cora Allen) were both originally from Pine Orchard.

In Memoriam

Alderson—In loving memory of Thomas Alderson who passed away October 25, 1940.
Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory fond and true,
Just a token of affection
And a heartache still for you,
More and more each day we miss
you,
Though our thoughts are not revealed,
Little do they know the sorrow
That is within our hearts concealed.
Sadly missed by Alma, Garn and Donnie.

Baile—In memory of our loving mother, Florence Baile, who passed away October 20, 1939.
In life loved and honored,
In death remembered.
Dearly remembered by Marjorie, Frank and Ted.

Baile—In loving memory of a dear mother, Florence Baile, who passed away October 20, 1939.
Deep in our hearts lies picture
Of a loved one laid to rest;
In memory's frame we shall keep
it,
Because she was one of the best.
Ever remembered by Violet and Ted.

Knowles—In loving memory of mother, Hannah MacKinnon
Knowles, who passed away October 23, 1947.
We will always remember you.
George, Nora and son-in-law,
Frank.

Pickering—In loving memory of my dearest brother, Sgt. George
Pickering, Irish Regt. of Canada,
killed October 24, 1914.
No one knows how much we miss
you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered. Since we lost
you,
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear brother,
That we do not think of you.
Always remembered by his sister,
Eileen.

Pickering—In loving memory of my dearest brother, Sgt. George
Pickering, Irish Regt. of Canada,
killed in Italy, October 24, 1914.
He is gone but not forgotten,
And as dawn's another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.

Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
Ever remembered by his niece,
Betty.

Smith—In loving memory of our dear son, Kenneth Smith, who passed away October 18, 1938.
We do not need a special day
To bring you to our mind,
For the days we do not think of
you
Are very hard to find.
If all this world was ours to give
We would give it yes, and more.
To see the face of Kenneth dear
Come smiling through the door.
Lovingly remembered by mother and dad.

Hao—In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. Mabel Hao, who passed away October 26, 1944.
Four years have passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away;
God took her home—it was His will.
Within our hearts she liveth still.
Lovingly remembered by husband and family.

Robertson—In loving memory of a dear daughter and sister, Georgina Leona Robertson, who passed away October 22, 1947.
A bitter grief, a shock severe
To part with her we loved so dear;
Our loss is great, we'll not complain,
But know in Christ, we'll meet again.
Ever remembered by mom, dad,
sisters and brother.

Robertson—In loving memory of our dear granddaughter, Georgina Leona Robertson, who passed away October 22, 1947.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while she sleeps a peaceful
sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
Ever remembered by grandma and granddaddy.

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Three-year-old Benny was practically forced to take action to preserve the dignity of his masculine sex. Benny was originally endowed with beautiful curly hair—the envy of straight-haired little girls, the pride of his mother and the subject for enthusiastic conversation by everyone with whom he came in contact.

Then Benny grew from an infant to a pre-school child. Whether to leave his hair long and allow him to look like a beautiful child of indeterminate sex or to cut his hair and allow him to be recognized as a regular boy was the main topic of conversation every time Benny appeared on the scene.

Eventually, the controversy over the curls ended. Everyone agreed that the curls would have to be sacrificed or Benny would soon be labelled "a curly-headed sissy." After the decision to cut the hair was made, it was reasonable to expect some action in the matter. Benny waited and he waited some more; but there was only more talk—nothing was done about a hair-cut.

Just Couldn't Wait

Finally, Benny couldn't wait any longer. He knew he was growing up and, after all he had heard, he couldn't bear the idea of growing into "a curly-headed sissy." He took the next opportunity and marched himself into the neighborhood barber shop. Benny specified the barber he wanted and waited his turn. (This particular barber had been waiting his chance to take clippers to Benny's curls so he didn't waste much time on formalities.)

Benny's mother was startled, to say the least, when she first saw Benny in his half-shaved condition. However, in view of all the discussion, in his presence, regarding his curls, she couldn't blame him for taking action.

Parents don't always realize they are directly responsible for their child's behavior in many instances. Little minds are absorbing attitudes and conversations, daily. Their interpretations of what they see and hear often result in strange behavior on the child's part. For that reason alone, it is best to trace the source of misbehavior in an attempt to avoid unjust punishment.

"You've Gotta Accentuate the Positive" says the popular song of yesteryear. And it's true!

The men and women who have accomplished big things in science, art, business, education, political and military affairs have all been positive thinkers. They had to be! Otherwise risks, mistakes, obstacles and laziness would have stopped them.

A barber once told me he wanted to open his own shop. But he never got around to it. Fear of failure held him back.

Negative thinking is like-wise typical of all the people who are habitual fault-finders, indecisive, lazy, defeatist and over-cautious. They act as brakes against the world's progress.

Yes, we need more folks who accentuate the positive. And they themselves are happier, more successful in their work and enjoy better relationships with others!

An important positive force for national progress is the millions of dollars invested by life insurance companies, on behalf of policyholders, in public works and industries which promote higher standards of living for all.

The Era and Express is sold in Newmarket at Campbell's, Murray's I.D.A. Drugstore, Best's Drugstore, Hutchinson's, Myers, and the Corner Cupboard;

I am very pleased and grateful for all you who have either told me or written me of your interest in my little articles on a trip this summer to Point Clark, Lake Huron. Three have told me they know of the lighthouse I wrote about, and ask will I tell something more about it. Another shut-in who has followed my trip with deep interest wants to know about the water supply, if we have to depend on lake water, since I tell of the deep sand there. Still another is incredulous about the fact that boats cannot come within 15 miles of that point.

Well, as to that fact, I can tell you it is certainly true. You can see the long reef extending away out and be aware of it because of the color of the water, which looks a sort of gray-blue in the sky-line waters of the lake. Other times I have been there I have, very occasionally though, seen steamers away out on the horizon.

This long reef under the water is why the Point Clark lighthouse was built. I wish I knew more about it, but here's a few little items I do know. It was built over 90 years ago, and I know too, that it has required very few repairs since which speaks well for the good workmanship employed in its construction. I have spoken of the deep sand all around there—and this meant that the foundations had to go down 30 feet to a blue clay bottom. It stands 110 feet high up to the railing around the light. I never attempted to climb to the circular staircase leading up to the light, but I most certainly would have liked to go up. The walls are very thick, the heavy stone blocks look very substantial. It is really beautifully built, and I imagine it can't be too easy to make a round, circular building like that. The keeper's house beside it, in fact in the shadow of it, is also very substantially built, for they must withstand terrific winds across the width of Lake Huron from the north and west.

They still tell of a storm in the lake—I think it was in 1938—but the date has escaped me. No doubt many will recall that awful storm when so many good ships were lost on Lake Huron and I saw the summer cottage, which still stands along the cove south of the lighthouse, where the body of the captain of one of the vessels was washed up onto the verandah. I think it was 19 bodies that were found along that very part where we were this summer. Lake Huron can be as gentle as a zephyr, but can roar like—well—now what shall I compare it to? To see it on a stormy day you can well imagine what it would be during equinoctial or winter storms. So even the light at the Point Clark lighthouse did not save the ships in that storm.

Another letter asked me if I ever found anything washed up on the shore, for I'd said a next-door neighbor once found a body. I was forever picking up pretty shells and stones, but you can't carry too much "junk" of that sort. (I don't call it "junk")! One day someone said "What will you do with all your shells?" I said I have given lots of people a shell to put in their tea-kettle to collect the lime. I have given plenty of shells to folks to use as a scoop for their salt box; a clam-shell won't corrode like a metal spoon; or to put in the bottom of a flower-pot when planting house-plants. And if you have never used one for your bobby pins, or safety pins, you'll find one handy. If you want to soak your fingertips in some solution you'll find a clam-shell exactly what you need.

Here's something else I found this summer to the amusement of all. We were in bathing and it really was rough. The waves fairly knocked us over and as I raced for the shore ahead of a big comb I saw what I thought was a tennis ball and called to the one next to me to retrieve it. He said it was gone before he saw it but it beat me to the shore. When I held up what I mistook for a tennis-ball, here was an onion. Before the week was out I'd collected seven or eight, all the way from the point at the lighthouse to the end of the cove, where a little stream runs.

That reminds me, you want to know about the water supply. It seems as if water there must be near the surface for everybody near us had a little pump in their kitchen sink, but we carried the drinking water from a place about three or four cottages north of us. It was a flowing well and the owner had plenty to pipe all through his cottage. He had erected a cement circular basin, the size of the base of a silo, and the water came bubbling up from a centre pipe, beautiful clear water. At one time he kept trout there. There is a tap at a pipe beside the cottage for drinking water and a little over-flow stream runs down the sand to the lake. All people along that part of the beach go there with pails for drinking water and I never tasted lovelier water.

Is there anything else I can tell you? I'd be very glad to tell you more if I knew what you would like to know. Again many thanks for your kind interest.

Held On $1,000 Bail To Be Tried In Toronto

Newmarket—Charged with the theft of a medical bag the property of Dr. Blackwell, Bradford, Campbell, McCart, 28, Newtonbrook, was committed for trial by Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake after a preliminary hearing in Newmarket court Friday.

Returning from the hospital Stunden located a room for the sick girl's friend and was driving south from Aurora when he noticed a bag held by McCart. According to Stunden, McCart told him, "I prowled the car in the driveway of the hospital." "I tried to get him to take it back," said Stunden, "and even

The Common Round...

CITIZENS OF TOMORROW

Watching children going to and from school in town or country, one thinks inevitably of what little bundles of potentialities they are. We live in a democratic country, so before them stretches a long vista of possibilities. There is no bar, save one raised by themselves, to prevent them from becoming great preachers or teachers, artists, or scientists, they might become prime ministers or cabinet ministers.

They are not regimented, these children of Canada, nor are they taken from their parents and put into youth camps, there to be taught an atheistic ideology and the tie between parent and child cut. In our favored land, a child is only taken from his parents if those parents prove themselves unequal to the task of being parents and the tragedy of a broken home is reflected in that child's life.

We heard Rev. Henry Cotton speak on the influence that can be exerted for good on the child by parents, of course, but also by teachers in day and Sunday-schools. I suppose the way parents live, in an atmosphere of peace with God and one another, is more potent than much talking, for children are imitators. But most children have a vast deal of admiration for their teachers and think that their — the teacher's — word the last word on many subjects.

at a shower Thursday evening for Miss Lenora Murphy, Aurora, and Mr. Basil Paxton, Oak Ridges, who are to be married shortly.

Mrs. Russell Gray, Uxbridge, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Gray and family. Other Sunday supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McIntyre and Roy, Mr. Clem Elias and Mrs. Ken Ash.

We are sorry to hear that Bobby Baycroft has scarlet fever. We hope he will soon be better.

I can remember a little cousin who used to visit us every summer, who, when her mother taught her the Lord's Prayer, persisted in saying "Whose heart is in heaven." Instead of "Who art in heaven." When she started to school, her mother noticed that she said it correctly, and asked Norah why she had changed. "The teacher told me to," said she. "Well, so did I," said her mother. "Yes," said her daughter, "but the teacher knows!"

It just goes to show what implicit faith young children put in their teachers, how truly they can inspire and encourage children to aim at the highest.

Our teachers are not bound, as in communistic countries, to stamp a certain ideology on their pupils' minds—stamp it so firmly as to be almost unshakable, but I think we often go to the other extreme and are sadly remiss in even adequately telling our children of the benefits of living in a democracy such as ours.

We older people know — or should know — these blessings, but too often we forget that children take their way of life for granted. They are sheltered and fed and clothed. They are taught religiously and secularly, but there is no compulsion as to what they believe. We think children might be shocked at hearing of what has happened and is happening to children in other lands, but children are not easily shocked; they have the radio and movies and if they can stand some of the pictures they watch so eagerly, they can stand the truth about the tragic lives of children in lands where starvation stalks unchecked.

It seems to me that every child should be taught that he or she has something to give to Canada as well as take from her, for a conscientious citizen is an asset greater than gold to a country.

News 'n' Views

By George Haskett

Those indoor soccer crews are warming to their work. Tuesday's punting sessions provided all the thrills and spills of a major play-off tilt. The hoofers were so enthused in their chores they applied the boots, on several occasions, on the seat of their opponent's pants, accidentally of course. Heavy checking and protests were flung about with abandon. Referee Geo. Davis and Albert Asselton are going to have to start to rule with a firm hand. Any Tuesday will find the teams in action from now on.

Arena notes: The joint will be jumping this winter. The Recreation Commission will have our old friend, Les Beazer, back at the throttle. A must on the program, says Les, will be another ice show. A renovation campaign is on the books for early attention also. Say, by the way, a date to tuck away in your memory is Oct. 27 and 28, for the rodeo in Aurora arena. Shiny news: That oft dreamed of revival of the Metropolitan League may become a reality. First spade work in this direction was done Monday evening when representatives from Aurora, Bradford, Sutton and Newmarket met. Further action next Monday. Out of the dugout: You can fool some of the people some of the time but many ball fanatics were right, after viewing the Fort Erie midges, when the said "there's the Ontario Champs". That's what the Forts are with Prescott the last remaining team calling it quits.

Vets, Sangamo Tops

Thrills and spills just about describe the situation at the arena Tuesday as the indoor soccer crews put away another triple header in the record books. In the opener between Davis "Tanners" and the Sangamo "Condensers" the teams battled to the last 30 seconds 2-2. Then Harry Newton sank the winner to give the Sangamo a 3-2 win. Previously Geo. Newton had hoofed in a pair for the hilltop lads. Jack Groves and Bill Bowen had kicked in a duo for the Tanners.

The second fray brought out the best punters from the Hoffman "Pressmen" and the Vets. When it was all over the Vets had racked up another win by a 2-1 margin. Don Smith and his line-mate, Normie Legge, booted in the pair for the winners. Jack Smalley sank the Hoffman counter. The Pressmen raised the roof, claiming they had tied in the last minutes of play—it could have been at that—but the referees ruled no score. Those town "Rascals" provided the climax in the third game as with only three seconds left, and with the Specialty "Ramblers" holding a one-goal advantage via Eddie Gibson, Ken Thoms took a ball from up field and tipped it into the Specialty goal past Chuck VanZant. And that gave the Specialty and Town a division of the points. Here's the league standing at Tuesday:

	W	L	T	Pts.
Sangamo	2	0	0	4
Vets	2	0	0	4
Office Specialty	0	0	2	2
Hoffman	0	1	1	1
Town	0	1	1	1
Davis Leather	0	2	0	0

Miami Bowlers Plan Own Clubhouse

Newmarket's bowling fraternity won't have any excuse to head south this winter so they can engage in their favorite pastime. No indeed, the Miami Green Bowlers are headed for a bigger and better season than ever before this coming winter. At a recent well attended get together, the bowlers laid the ground work for the coming winter. Here's the picture as we have it. In past years, of course, the faithful have plied their trade on the second floor of the Dixon Pencil Company. This spot no longer available, the bowlers have purchased one of the huts at the old military camp. This will be moved to a site west of the Dixon Pencil Company with work commencing immediately. The bowlers hope that Santa Claus will be able to pay them a visit at the new site, and from then on watch their smoke.

TINY TOPS LIST IN LADIES' BATTERIES

Sure enough, here's the good or bad news—depending on your position—on the ladies' softball doing this summer. The batting averages are:

	At Bat	Hits	Av.
Mary E. McInnis	101	51	.505
Norma Balsdon	4	2	.500
Lois Manning	90	41	.455
Marg. Arnold	86	37	.430
Phyllis McInnis	88	37	.420
Mary Osborne	106	40	.377
Edith Dow	59	22	.373
Lois Blight	95	29	.305
Mona Dean	82	23	.280
Edna McGrath	82	22	.268
A. McClymont	30	8	.222
Betty VanZant	53	11	.208

Edna McGrath was the heavy hitter, giving out with three circuit smashes and a quartet of three-base blows. Mary Osborne gave her team-mate a run for home-run honors with a pair, while Lois Manning had a trio of triples over the season. Margaret Arnold, Mary Osborne and Phyl. McInnis led the two-base smashes for four each.

After that most of the honors went to left-fielder Mary Ellen "Tiny" McInnis, who led in the hit department with 51 safeties, scored the most runs, 40, and topped the swingers with a .505 average. Phyl. McInnis was second in the runs-scored department with 30 complete journeys. Just in closing, the team rates a rave. While not bringing home any slobber-knash—that's where we should blast them—the team won 15 tilts while losing 10 and tying one. That includes exhibition frays. While we're at it, don't forget those hard working chappies, Manager Frank Courtney, Coach Chuck VanZant and the executive of Orval Hisey, Miss Annie Kmet, and chief trouble shooter Vic. Well done, folks.

With AB HULSE

POT POURRI

To be or not to be dept.: It is hard to recall an October, when the hockey situation was as indefinite and badly muddled as A.D. 1948, and that goes for the war years as well. In the North York area, only Unionville and Stouffville appear to have any idea of things to come and both centres, having decided on a course of action, are hard at work. Unionville will play junior C and they have a membership drive on which will raise funds and provide a fun club. They have a fair idea, too, as to most of the players they'll use. Stouffville elevated to intermediate, has already had ice practices and there's not much doubt that they'll have a pretty good team. The trick will be to keep it in B rating.

Aurora, long a power in junior C hockey, finds itself with only Unionville and possibly Keswick or Sutton as opposition. Not very attractive billings for gates and the experience of last season was that with the exception of when Stouffville played there was no take worth mentioning at the turnstiles. The loss of Smith, Doolittle, Nigh, Boychhoff, Hopper and Howard Patrick leaves a few gaps to be filled and there are those who think that what's left won't provide a team strong enough to go far without additions. Help looked upon with favor includes Bill Mulholland, Newmarket goalie, and possibly one or two more of last year's Gapecos squad, Norm Stunden and Dougie Moore, who alternated in goal for Stouffville last winter, Mac Clement and Jack Atkinson, Stouffville blueliners, and Skippy Taylor, plus whatever is available for front line duty.

It is thought that Ken Broughton, now in Galt but out with injuries sustained against Philadelphia, might return with official blessings from the Rockets. As can be imagined the O.H.A. would definitely hoist Aurora to B rating with a squad like that, as was the case with Stouffville last winter. If that takes place Red Mitchell is promised additional player help from Toronto. Aurora thus would likely have a potent B entry. The grouping problem once again presents difficulties. There's no doubt about it, it will cost more money to operate in B by way of all expenses and to get a grouping that would pack in the fans would probably mean meeting teams a considerable distance away and they'd be artificial ice clubs, well financed, and with player strength. In B you play against such teams as Owen Sound Greys, Kitchener, Hamilton Aerovox, the prep school winners, Kingston, Peterboro, Lindsay, etc. While it might be possible to have a group with Weston, Corner Boys, Marlboroughs, the experience of any team that has played with such a group is that they won't draw, no matter how good the teams are. You have to depend on some visiting fans, plus real team rivalry, for good gates, and that's lacking with city teams of B calibre. You can see the headaches confronting Messrs. Simmons and Mitchell. Add to that the fact that Unionville might snatch one or two of the above players, Markham may play junior B, Clement and Atkinson may forsake sports for studies and there are no financial angels in the immediate offing. Perhaps you can answer the $64 question.

At Newmarket there'll be no junior club but an intermediate club of some sort. Vets will not operate an intermediate club and who will sponsor a club rests apparently between Hoffmans and Gapecos. One team is all Newmarket can really put on the ice as was proven last winter.

We have settled down to work for this term. There are no big activities here at school except for the rugby games. Last Monday night our senior team visited St. Andrew's and lost their game 11-0. This makes one loss and one win for our senior team. The junior team plays its first game tonight against Earl Haig. Here. We wish you luck! Attention all school students! Don't forget the Hard Times dance here Saturday night. This is strictly hard times. Be a good sport and come and join us in the fun. Music is supplied by Eaton's Bandbox.

Hi-Lights of N.H.S.

By ELAINE ROBINSON

We have settled down to work for this term. There are no big activities here at school except for the rugby games. Last Monday night our senior team visited St. Andrew's and lost their game 11-0. This makes one loss and one win for our senior team. The junior team plays its first game tonight against Earl Haig. Here. We wish you luck! Attention all school students! Don't forget the Hard Times dance here Saturday night. This is strictly hard times. Be a good sport and come and join us in the fun. Music is supplied by Eaton's Bandbox.
